Jointly provided by the Congress of Neurological Surgeons and the Joint Section on Tumors
Dear colleague,

We’re excited to invite you to Miami on September 11–12, 2020, for the Tumor Section’s 15th Biennial Satellite Symposium, which immediately precedes the 2020 CNS Annual Meeting. Our meeting theme this year is Neurosurgical Oncology 2020: A Vision for the Future.

Join us at this two-day symposium for engaging scientific sessions that explore technological advances in neurosurgical neuro-oncology, including tumor microenvironment and spinal oncology. We will also focus on neurosurgeons as clinical scientists and managing recurrence in neuro-oncology.

Breakout sessions for residents, fellows, and young attendings address topics such as tips for the first three to five years of practice, endoscopic skull base surgery, and incorporating technology in neuro-oncology. Be sure to catch the best original science with four select oral abstract presentations and discussions. We’re also pleased to offer industry-sponsored breakfast and lunch symposia.

We are thrilled to welcome our 2020 Keynote Speaker, Jennifer Esposito, vice president and leader of the health business unit at Magic Leap. Magic Leap is an augmented reality and spatial computing company at the forefront of using AR technology to transform healthcare. Esposito has over 20 years of experience in the global healthcare IT, medical device, biotechnology, health and life sciences industries. She has a graduate degree in the global healthcare IT, medical device, biotechnology, transforming healthcare. Esposito has over 20 years of experience in the global healthcare IT, medical device, biotechnology, and artificial intelligence.

Don’t miss the 32nd Anniversary Gala, which takes place on Friday evening at 1 Hotel South Beach, and it is the perfect oceaneater setting to mingle with colleagues and friends. The Tumor Section’s Career Awards will be presented for distinguished service (The Mark Rosenblum Distinguished Service Award), career accomplishments (The Charles B. Wilson Award), and mentoring (The Andrew T. Panza Mentorship Award), along with certificates for best oral and poster presentations from the open abstract sessions during the day. On Saturday afternoon, the program will transition into the honored guest symposium highlighting the career of Edward R. Laws Jr.

The Tumor Section Satellite Symposium takes place at the Miami Beach Convention Center in the heart of South Beach.

Take time to explore South Beach’s Art-Deco District, enjoy views of the beautiful white sand beaches, or take a stroll down Lincoln Road for dining and shopping options. You’ll also want to visit the Vizcaya Museum and Gardens to explore its beautiful architecture, grounds, or take in murals of street art through the Wynwood district where artists from around the world have created more than 40 dazzling pieces of stunning art on building sides.

We encourage you to stay for the 2020 CNS Annual Meeting, September 12–16, for more CME and networking with colleagues. Register for both meetings and receive an automatic $200 off of your combined registration fees.

We look forward to seeing you in Miami!
